COURSE DESCRIPTION:

People read and write many different types of texts in their daily lives. However, academic reading and writing require a different level of skill and understanding. This course will prepare students with the skills required for success in theological academic study.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

At the end of this course, students should be able to:

1. Read and understand texts related to theological study
2. Write clear, grammatical English
3. Express biblical and theological concepts in English writing
4. Paraphrase an idea from a book/article for inclusion in an essay
5. Summarise paragraphs and articles in your own words
6. Use the library
7. Analyse and respond to varying assignment types likely to be encountered in theological study
8. Avoid plagiarism by following accepted procedures for using source material, including correct formatting of footnotes and bibliographies.
