Due Dates:	Sunday midnight end of semester weeks 1, 4, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12
Percentage Weighting:	15%
Word Count:	As specified below

In several lessons of this course you will be required to engage in compulsory Online Discussions which require you to post a response of 200 words on the Online Discussion Forum. In addition to your initial posting, you will be required to make at least one further posting of at least 50 words which interacts with what your fellow students have said. The second posting for each assessment exercise must be within 7 calendar days of the due date for the initial posting.

The online discussion for weeks 7-10 forms a significant part of the Family Issues assignment. Further details about this are contained in your course materials.

2. Genogram

Learning Outcomes:	2
Due Dates:	Midnight Sunday of semester week 5
Percentage Weighting:	35%
Length:	1500 words for written presentation

For this assessment you will need to research and document your family history to three generations. On the basis of your research, develop visual (genogram diagram) and written (essay) presentations to record and interpret significant information. Use guidelines supplied in the course materials for questions, purpose, conventions on symbols, etc.

i. Genogram Content

Your genogram should include names, occupations, cause of death, age at marriage/death, living situations (e.g. extended family, geographically distant, mobility), Christian commitment (e.g. denominational, evangelical, etc), loyalty to clubs, societies, etc., relationships/communication (e.g. close/distant, conflictual, etc.), financial/socioeconomic factors.

ii. Criteria for Genogram

The visual presentation

This will include

- scope – three generations or more
- family tree details – few or no gaps
- genogram detail – specificity of information, key, clarity, neatness
- superscript numbers for reference across to your written text.

The written presentation

Specify particular details in any of the following areas (where appropriate, reference the superscript numbers from the genogram diagram)

- general background to family life
- significant factors shaping your personal history
- trends (i.e. repetitions over generations)
- exceptions
- implications for the future.

The written presentation should be in essay style and evidence a capacity to interpret factual material in the light of family systems theory.

3. Family Issues Assignment

Learning Outcomes:	3
Due Dates:	Midnight Sunday at the end of Study Week 1 for the Seminar paper
Percentage Weighting:	25%
Length:	1500 words for seminar paper

This assignment is made up of two components:

- a. Students will write a seminar paper (1500 words) for presenting the topic they have chosen, to a church or community group, from a list of four possible areas (thinking about marriage, parenting, the suffering family, the family torn). The paper should contain explanation and application. It is anticipated that students will give permission for their papers to be made available to the class as a resource that all can use and refer to in the future.
- b. Students will also set and facilitate online discussion questions for their fellow class members, based around the topic they have chosen for their seminar paper. These questions will require all students to engage with readings provided in the course material as part of this online class discussion. (See assessment task #1)

4. Essay

Learning Outcomes:	1, 4
Due Dates:	Midnight Sunday at the end of Study Week 2
Percentage Weighting:	25%
Length:	1500 words

As a Christian, how would you define and defend the concept of family? In the light of this, discuss ways in which the Christian community can encourage the development of strong families. Are there practical or theological issues which need to be addressed in implementing a programme developed from this?
